

FedLine Advantage®

The FedLine Advantage access solution extends the use of Web technology to provide access to electronic payment services including Fedwire® Funds Service, Fedwire Securities Service, National Settlement Service and FedACH® Services. It also includes access to all Federal Reserve Financial Services available via FedLine Web®.

FedLine Advantage

FedLine Advantage is designed to be flexible enough to meet a wide range of business needs. You can customize FedLine Advantage based on the number of users in your organization, transaction volume, desired access speeds, networking preferences and the structure of your operations.

Key Features

Enhanced Service Availability

FedLine Advantage provides access to a broad range of applications, including transactional ability and information regarding FedACH, Fedwire Funds, Fedwire Securities and National Settlement Service as well as information for FedCash Services, Check and Accounting and Billing information. For the most current listing of available services, visit FRBservices.org.

Advanced technology allows for greater customization

FedLine Advantage offers many options for technical customization and integration that allow your organization to leverage its existing infrastructure. Flexible networking options present choices in both internal and external connectivity, providing the ability to configure

FedLine Advantage based on your preferred transmission method, speed and availability requirements, and preference for integration within your organization's network.

External Connectivity: Choices to Connect with the Federal Reserve Banks

FedLine Advantage offers two ways to connect with Federal Reserve Banks. The transmission method you select is, in part, dictated by the volume and transmission speeds needed for your business.

Internal Connectivity: Choices to Connect with Your Network

In addition to external connectivity options, FedLine Advantage offers a choice in internal connectivity, with options to integrate FedLine Advantage within your organization's network or to install it as a stand-alone system. By integrating FedLine Advantage within your organization's network, your Subscribers will be able to access Federal Reserve Financial Services from their desktop PC and easily share data within your business. The stand alone option is for customers that prefer to keep FedLine Advantage access limited to only designated PCs.

Trusted Security

FedLine Advantage incorporates highly resilient security features that are designed to create reliable protection for your business data, while providing flexibility to best meet your operational needs. Industry-standard, end-to-end encryption is automatically enabled to ensure the confidentiality and integrity of all communications with the Federal Reserve Banks. Authentication options that include digital certificates and passwords allow your organization the flexibility to define customized access for authorized individuals.

Key Features

- Access to critical payment services
- Resilient security features
- Multiple Subscriber access
- Flexible connectivity options

Training
