To: Cash Operations Vendors, Armored Carriers & Visitors

From: Federal Reserve System Cash Product Office

Subject: IMPORTANT NOTICE

As you know from recent news reports, the spread of COVID-19 (Coronavirus) remains a concern across the globe. The health and safety of everyone who visits the Federal Reserve Banks and its cash operations is important to us and we continue to closely monitor the situation and follow CDC guidance.

Out of an abundance of caution, if any of the following apply to you or your staff we ask that you not visit the Federal Reserve Bank district or branch locations until you have been symptom free for 14 days.

- You have a confirmed case of Coronavirus, or have been notified by medical personnel that you are being assessed or monitored for the virus;
- you visited any of the affected areas where the Coronavirus is prevalent in the last two weeks (see CDC Alert Levels 2 & 3);
- you live with or are in close contact with a person who has been to an area where the Coronavirus is prevalent in the last two weeks; or,
- you have had close contact with someone who is confirmed to have, or is being evaluated for, Coronavirus infection.

We appreciate your support and attention to this important topic. If you have questions, please contact us using the below information.

CPO National Operations & Business Resilience
Brian Weaver, Director
Phone: 415-974-2545

CPO Vendor Management
Jonathan Martin, Assistant Vice President
Phone: 804-697-8185

CPO BEM Outreach & Support
Fred Shuford, Assistant Vice President
Phone: 804-697-5463

101 Market St, San Francisco, California 94105