

September 1, 2016

A New Version of the Account Management Guide is Available

In preparation for the integration of Service Charge Information (SCI) into the Account Management Information (AMI) application planned for early October of this year, a new version of the Account Management Guide (AMG) has been posted on FRBservices.org.

Additional updates have been made to Appendix B of this guide to include new transaction codes associated with the Phase 1 implementation of NACHA's Same Day ACH Rule effective September 23, 2016.

For more information about the changes, please view the Summary of Changes.

For more information about the SCI into AMI integration, view the resource center.