

Ask us about instant payments for your business

Did you know that we now offer instant payments? That's right – now you can send and receive transactions immediately with the use of our instant payment service. With instant payments, transactions are data-rich, transparent and efficient, and can bring benefits to your organization and those you serve.

What are the benefits of instant payments?

By using instant payments, your business can:

- ✓ Precisely time payments and gain more control over cash flow.
- ✓ Provide a better payment experience to customers and employees.
- ✓ Streamline payment processing and improve efficiency of corporate payments.
- ✓ Meet employee expectations for timely and efficient payroll including final paychecks, correcting payroll errors and more.

How can you use instant payments?

There are many ways your business can use instant payments. For example, you can:

- ✓ Pay a supplier for an on-demand delivery right then and there, potentially getting a discount or strengthening your relationship with the supplier.
- ✓ Provide an instant refund to a buyer, improving customer experience and loyalty.
- ✓ Allow customers to pay you instantly, enabling you to access that money immediately and put it to use.
- ✓ Instantly transfer funds to an employee's account, ensuring quick and seamless access to earned wages, reimbursements and more.
